Antique Jar Luminary

Stamp sets: Gently Falling & Woodgrain
Other supplies: white tissue paper; Chocolate Chip craft ink with clear embossing powder; Cajun Craze, Old Olive, More Mustard & Soft Suede inks with aqua-painter; Modge Podge; Scalloped Tulle ribbon in Cherry Cobbler, Early Espresso & Crumb Cake; Linen thread; Naturals White CS; raffia; battery-op votive.

Begin by stamping your piece of white tissue paper all over with the Woodgrain background stamp, in Soft Suede.

Then randomly stamp the various leaves and acorn in Chocolate Chip craft ink, sprinkling with clear embossing powder as you go. Make sure to make a set of leaves on the piece of Naturals White CS while you're at it, for your tag.

Heat set all embossed items.

Brush a generous-but-not-drippy layer of Modge Podge on the sides on your jar. Wrap your tissue paper around, pressing down evenly into the Modge Podge. Make sure to smooth down the edges over the curves, and don't worry about wrinkles!

Using the aqua painter, add light color to the leaves and acorns, also painting the ones on your cardstock.

While the jar is drying a bit, go ahead and cut out your cardstock leaves. Adhere in a pleasing arrangement on the tag shape provided, being sure to leave the hole uncovered.

Add another generous layer of Modge Podge OVER your tissue paper. Once some of the tackiness is dried, go ahead and tie your various ribbon pieces around the jar, and add your leaf tag with the linen thread.
